produced by computer-aided transcription.

1 THE CLERK: Ortiz versus ACACIA Network, Inc., et
2 al. Docket number 14-CV-7519.

3 Counsel, please state your appearances starting with 4 the plaintiff.

5 MR. NOHAVICKA: For the plaintiff, your Honor,
6 Joseph Nohavicka, to my left, Peter Hatzipetros who was
7 admitted just this morning, Ashley Serrano, admission pending.
8 Good morning, your Honor.

9 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Good morning. Cara O'Sullivan of 10 Kaufman Borgeest & Ryan for defendants.

11 THE COURT: Good morning.

12 Okay. This is the final pretrial conference in the 13 case. There are just a few exhibits we need to go through.

14 Mr. Nohavicka, Exhibit 2, it is not all that helpful
15 to say "all correspondence." Generally, some of it may be 16 admissible and some of it may not be admissible and I can't 17 tell which is which.

18 MR. NOHAVICKA: I'll try to straighten that out for 19 you right now, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Off the record.

21 (Discussion off the record.)

22 THE COURT: Back on the record.

23 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, I'm sorry. It was just 24 phrased awkwardly by me and I apologize.

25 THE COURT: That's okay. Now I understand.

1 MR. NOHAVICKA: So it's just the e-mail and the only
2 reason that's being introduced as evidence is to show that,
3 that defendants did ask the plaintiff to perform more duties
4 than his job description outlined.

5 THE COURT: What's wrong with that?

6 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Well, our contention is that this,
7 this -- we don't dispute that we asked him to do driving and 8 this does not bear on his claims for whether or not he was 9 paid wages and it does not bear any relevance to the claim
10 that he complained about not being paid, with the retaliation
11 claim that he complained about not being paid his wages and 12 was subsequently terminated from employment.

13 THE COURT: But this is off-hours driving, right?
14 That's one of the things you are disputing. I take it the 15 plaintiff is going to tie this and show when you offer the 16 time records, well, here's something that doesn't fit the time
17 records, therefore, we can't rely on the time records. I
18 don't see anything wrong with that.

19 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Okay. Then we'll withdraw our 20 objection.

21 THE COURT: Okay. So that can come in.

22 And then the damage computations, at the very least,
23 I think the plaintiff has the right to put up some kind of 24 chart in closing argument that is derived from his testimony
25 saying what he is owed. Whether the jury gets to take back

1 with them into the jury room, this Exhibit 10, that's another
2 question.

3 It is potentially admissible as a summary, I guess.
4 Right? There's a whole bunch of records from which this is 5 derived and I don't think there's any dispute about the 6 accuracy or at least there's a dispute about the accuracy but 7 there is no dispute that there will be evidence to support
8 each of the line items in this Exhibit 10, even if that 9 evidence is the plaintiff's testimony.

10 MR. NOHAVICKA: May I address that, your Honor?

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MR. NOHAVICKA: That's exactly correct, but one of 13 the things I should clarify is that I believe that this is 14 going to be a bench trial. The plaintiff does not want a jury
15 on this case and defense counsel has indicated that she was 16 going to go back to her client to determine whether or not.
17 In that case, it certainly wouldn't be of any prejudice. It
18 wouldn't confuse the Court.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Well, if it's a bench trial, then
20 of course I'm going to see it.

21 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes.

22 THE COURT: Has anyone demanded a jury trial?

23 MR. NOHAVICKA: I believe that there was a jury
24 demand in the beginning with our complaint but I thought that 25 we had put in the JTP0 that we were not going to have a jury.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Let me look at that.

2 MR. NOHAVICKA: And that will be on page six, your
3 Honor, of the JTP0.

4 THE COURT: But it says with a jury.

5 Well, what's the defendant's position on that? Do
6 you want a jury or not? I mean, if it has been demanded on 7 the complaint, then even the defendant has the right to rely
8 on the complaint and I am happy to do it either way.

9 MS. O'SULLIVAN: I just found out just now about the 10 plaintiff's request for a bench trial. Being the clients, who 11 they are and my contact, I know they're going to want some 12 input, so I just want to confer with them this afternoon and 13 we'll be able to reply later today.

14 THE COURT: Let's talk about the assumption that it
15 is a jury trial because her clients say no, although I think 16 probably it's likely they say yes, but just in case so we 17 don't have to do this again, let's talk about whether this 18 exhibit can be seen by a jury.

19 Let me ask why this doesn't fall under I think it's
20 Rule 10006. The proponent may use a calculation, summary
21 chart or calculation to prove the content of voluminous
22 writings, recordings or photographs that cannot be
23 conveniently examined in court, but isn't it right that this
24 chart comes from the plaintiff's testimony, not any written
25 records?

1 MR. NOHAVICKA: That is correct, your Honor.
2 Partially, though, part of the testimony would be supported by
3 defense counsel's records. We're just saying that it's not 4 inclusive of what we're claiming.

5 THE COURT: You need the plaintiff's testimony to 6 get to this chart.

7 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, your Honor, we do.

8 THE COURT: And for that reason, it's not a
9 voluminous writing, recording or photograph literally.

10 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Your Honor, if I may.

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Also, if you look at the record,
13 the chart in front of you, with the exception of, I believe,
14 three dates, every -- that chart is just a start and finish
15 with adding ten hours a week.

16 THE COURT: Right.

17 MS. O'SULLIVAN: And I don't think that -- and like
18 you said, it's not a voluminous record and that is simply one
19 sentence that the plaintiff can testify to if that is his 20 testimony.

21 THE COURT: Well, I mean, I think he is going to be 22 testifying to that. He's going to testify effectively here's 23 how much I worked. He's going to give the numbers in here.

24 Hang on one second.

25 You know, even a bookkeeper would be able to take

1 the stand and say based on plaintiff's testimony, I prepared
2 this chart, here's how the numbers work out. On the other
3 hand, as an exhibit, it really doesn't fall under the rule as
4 an exhibit that can be admitted into evidence. I have no
5 problem using it during closing arguments. I do think you
6 might want to simplify it. I don't think you need a listing
7 like this. You know, you could just have a formula. Okay?
8 You put up a big placard in front of the jury that says, you
9 know, 40 times ten times number of days equals and that's the 10 number, but I think I'm going to sustain the objection to 11 using it in this form if we have a jury.

12 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, just for a
13 clarification, we can still use it -- assuming that it's a
14 bench trial now, we can still use it just to demonstrate and 15 to illustrate what the testimony was.

16 THE COURT: Yes.

17 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: I mean, you could pretty much stand up
19 in front of a jury with, whoever it is, an easel and a marking 20 pen and do the math that's on this exhibit. Say you heard the 21 plaintiff testify to this, well, if you take this and you take 22 this rate and you multiply it by this number of days, here's 23 what you get, that's the number you should award. So I don't
24 think you really need this but I think you really can't admit
25 it in front of a jury anyway technically.

1 MR. NOHAVICKA: Understood, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Unless I can think of some other reason
3 because I think it's -- I mean, actually there's probably a
4 much easier way to present this to the jury.

5 MR. NOHAVICKA: Understood.

6 THE COURT: So try to do that.

7 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: So that objection is sustained in a jury
9 trial and in a bench trial, it just doesn't matter.

10 Next, with regard to defendant's exhibits, these to 11 me, at least F and G and H, all of them really at least 12 through J, all of the objected-to exhibits, F, G, H, I and J,
13 they do seem to me to be fair rebuttal of the plaintiff's
14 retaliation claim. To the extent plaintiff claims that he was 15 improperly fired for exercising his rights, these documents
16 would tend to show that he was fired for bad performance.

17 So, assuming that a foundation for them as business
18 records can be laid, which I assume it can, what's wrong with 19 those?

20 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, some of the e-mails
21 involve people that we've never heard of, we don't know. They 22 would not come in under the hearsay within hearsay exception
23 under 805 and for that reason, because of the -- yes, it would 24 come in as business records under 803(6), but the information
25 contained on there, some of it would not come in under 805.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Well, let's go through them then.
2 Let's start with Exhibit F.

3 Okay. The warning that was sent to your client,
4 that comes in, right?

5 MR. NOHAVICKA: That comes in, Your Honor, yes.

6 THE COURT: And that's the first three pages. I
7 guess it's all of Exhibit F, right?

8 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes.

9 THE COURT: Exhibit F is in.

10 Exhibit G. Well, you don't question that the first 11 page, the e-mail from your client, that that would come in?

12 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, that would come in as a party
13 statement anyway, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: And then what is the objection to the 15 memorandum that's annexed to it?

16 I will ask the defendant's counsel. Why is this
17 marked as one Exhibit G? Shouldn't the e-mail be one exhibit?

18 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Yes. Yes. I apologize. There
19 must have been some error in my office's fault.

20 THE COURT: So you are going to renumber your 21 exhibits?

22 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Yes.

23 THE COURT: And that would be separate?

24 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Yes.

25 THE COURT: But what's wrong with the memorandum?

1 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, if I could just save the 2 Court some time on this one, I'm going to withdraw the 3 objection to that.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

5 Okay. Exhibit H. It seems to me H goes to the 6 defendant's state of mind.

7 MR. NOHAVICKA: I agree with that, Your Honor.
8 We'll withdraw the objection on that.

9 THE COURT: Okay. And I, what is the defendant
10 introducing I for?

11 MS. O'SULLIVAN: With respect to I, Your Honor, is 12 that the plaintiff, plaintiff's complaints, he had complaints
13 concerning his title as a, whether or not it be a recreation
14 aid or recreation coordinator, and then he has allegations as 15 far as the -- he made complaints concerning he was not paid.

16 This is with respect to a union grievance and we 17 want to introduce it for the fact that it was not that he was 18 complaining about the wages that he earned or did not earn,
19 but that he was complaining more about the title that he was 20 in which was not a protected activity under the fairly stated
21 conduct.

22 THE COURT: But this is the response. Is he putting 23 it in the grievance? I don't think so.

24 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Well, what we're saying is that 25 their would likely be testimony, then we'll use this as

1 rebuttal because there's testimony previously with respect to
2 his conversations with the union, and so in order to kind of
3 grasp all the conversations that went on concerning complaints
4 he made to the union, we wanted to have this.

5 THE COURT: If your purpose is to show that his 6 grievance had certain limitations, it's the grievance, not
7 your response that shows that. You know, I guess you can say
8 the response, since it responds to the grievance, shows what 9 the grievance had, but it's the grievance. It's not the 10 response.

11 MS. O'SULLIVAN: In this response, it also discusses 12 a meeting with Mr. Ortiz. So I would ask the Court that if we 13 need to use this document to refresh the witness' recollection
14 concerning any meetings, that it be available so we could use
15 it for that purpose.

16 THE COURT: Well, you have an absolute right to use
17 the sun, the moon and the stars to refresh the witness'
18 recollection, but I don't think this document is admissible in 19 evidence. Certainly you may use it in the fashion you have 20 outlined.

21 Okay. And then, again, it seems to me it goes to 22 the defendant's state of mind and their ground for firing him.
23 I will, if you want me to, give an instruction to the jury
24 that they're solely to take it for that purpose if you ask for 25 it from me at the time.

1 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, Your Honor. I'll make note of
2 that.

3 THE COURT: If you help me to remember it. So for 4 that purpose, I think it's admissible.

5 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, Your Honor. Our objection is 6 withdrawn on that.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Then the check summary, what is 8 missing according to plaintiff for the check summary?

9 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, May 2013 is missing.

10 THE COURT: You're saying he got another check in 11 May of 2013?

12 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes.

13 MR. HATZIPETROS: I apologize, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: That's okay. You can talk.

15 MR. HATZIPETROS: The pay stubs that we proffered in 16 evidence in exchange with discovery that were paid to our 17 clients by the defendants, the numbers don't add up to the 18 checks numbers and the numbers received in the compensation
19 for double worked.

20 THE COURT: Was theirs more or less than yours?

21 MR. HATZIPETROS: Theirs are less than ours.

22 THE COURT: Isn't that good for you? I think this 23 exhibit helps you.

24 MR. HATZIPETROS: Then the objection is withdrawn,
25 Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Oh, the audit report, oh, the jury is
2 going to love to have a 250 page document of line items.
3 What's missing from that? What could be missing from the 4 payroll audit report?

5 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, it's more -- this is the 6 first time we saw this was just recently so it's clearly a
7 violation of 26(a) and should be subject to the sanctions of 8 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 37, 37(c). So, I mean, in 9 addition, there's no 901 authentication at all. It's just an 10 exhibit saying here we go and that's it.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Let me ask defense counsel.
12 What is this document.

13 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Sure. This is the document that,
14 this is the document that reflects changes that were made to 15 the time of Mr. Ortiz's time records. The defendants have not 16 disputed that changes were made to his time records. That 17 could have been due to him not punching in or punching out.
18 We had to go in and change those times.

19 There was testimony that there were time sheets and 20 that he didn't always hand in a time sheet and someone had to 21 speak to him about what, what, when he left, when he came in,
22 so we had to go back in and manually make changes to the time
23 records and that's what this is. So, to the extent that this 24 has any one day deletions, because the testimony is that 25 Mr. Ortiz always punched in and punched out when he was there,

1 and there is not any evidence in this for every change that is
2 made that reflects what the plaintiff's testimony is.

3 THE COURT: You're saying, and the reason it's 4 called an audit, is because it audits the changes; it comes up
5 with an explanation for the changes.

6 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Not necessarily an explanation, but 7 what the changes were and why the changes were made.

8 THE COURT: And why wasn't this produced either in 9 the 26(a)(1)'s or in discovery?

10 MS. O'SULLIVAN: It was produced. It was produced
11 at the end of discovery.

12 THE COURT: How close to the end?

13 MS. O'SULLIVAN: A couple of days before.

14 THE COURT: Okay. If you want to use it, what we 15 will do is we will allow the plaintiff to take a deposition of 16 a 30(b)(6) witness who is most familiar with this, how it was 17 prepared, what's in it, and you will pay the plaintiffs three 18 hours of attorneys' fees for that deposition and that can be 19 done any time the parties agree before we try the case.

20 MR. NOHAVICKA: Well, Your Honor, may I be heard on 21 that?

22 THE COURT: Sure.

23 MR. NOHAVICKA: And I appreciate that but we want no
24 further delay on this.

25 THE COURT: There won't be any delay. Do it next

1 week unless you want to try the case Monday.

2 MR. NOHAVICKA: I'd actually like to try the case.
3 We were prepared for Monday, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: The defendant may have another view
5 about that, but, you know, we will pick the trial date. If 6 it's Monday, you can take the deposition Saturday. Okay? If 7 it's a week from Monday, you can take it next week, but we 8 will accomplish both.

9 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: It was produced during discovery. It
11 should have been produced earlier, but the appropriate
12 sanction is not preclusion. It's three hours of attorneys'
13 fees so you can get to the bottom of it.

14 Okay. Now, the witnesses are all okay with 15 everybody, right? No problems with witnesses?

16 MR. NOHAVICKA: No problems by the plaintiff,
17 Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MS. O'SULLIVAN: I'm sorry, Your Honor. You're 20 referring to any objections in the pretrial order?

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 MS. O'SULLIVAN: We have no problems with it.

23 THE COURT: There's an overlap. It seems you are 24 calling a lot of the same witnesses. And you are thinking two 25 to three days, right?

1 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Yes.

2 MR. NOHAVICKA: The plaintiff, from opening
3 arguments and for the direct testimony of two witnesses, that
4 can be accomplished in one day.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Let's see when we can do this.

6 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Your Honor, if I may speak.

7 THE COURT: You have vacations?

8 MS. O'SULLIVAN: We had discussed last time we had 9 an issue with a witness who was no longer an employee of 10 defendants by the name of Lisette Rodriguez and what I have 11 stated last time was that she was having surgery in May and 12 would be available after June and obviously, and if we're 13 looking at a July date, at that time, I brought it up because 14 I did not know what was going to be the result of that 15 surgery.

16 I have been, was trying to reach out to this witness
17 last week and this week and I finally got an e-mail in the 18 afternoon yesterday that she had surgery this past Friday, I
19 don't know if it was a surgery date that had moved or there
20 was complications of the prior surgery, but she had indicated
21 that with additional treatment and follow-up for this major
22 surgery, she would not be available until after August.

23 THE COURT: Wow.

24 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Yes. I understand that the Court
25 would, wanted to try this case this summer. Our position is

1 that the plaintiff wouldn't be prejudiced by a delay to early
2 September to allow us to have this individual have live
3 testimony.

4 MR. NOHAVICKA: Your Honor, may I be heard briefly
5 on this?

6 THE COURT: Yes, I'm not ruling. I just have a
7 question.

8 MR. NOHAVICKA: Yes.

9 THE COURT: You had the whole discovery period to 10 take her deposition. One of the reasons for taking witness
11 depositions is just so you don't find yourself in this 12 position, right?

13 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Understood. And then we did take 14 her deposition. Plaintiff took her deposition. I did ask
15 some questions. We believe that her testimony, live testimony
16 is very important to the case and we would appreciate an 17 adjournment of the case in order that she appears as a
18 witness.

19 MR. NOHAVICKA: May I just address that briefly,
20 Your Honor?

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 MR. NOHAVICKA: She is a key witness. She's 23 actually my second witness. I don't need her live testimony.
24 I have her deposition testimony. That will be read into the 25 record and I will not ask for a negative inference charge, you

1 know, assuming it goes before a jury. I will not ask Your
2 Honor the circumstances of that, but we don't have to trouble
3 her and bring her down for the trial in this case. The 4 testimony will suffice.

5 THE COURT: But the defendant wants to trouble her.
6 They want her live because they did what lawyers often make 7 the mistake of doing at a non-party deposition which is they 8 didn't ask many questions, right? They figured they could 9 always get to her.

10 I think we are going to have to wait for her. When 11 is she available?

12 MS. O'SULLIVAN: I just got the e-mail, I have the 13 e-mails with me. I have no problems showing them to Your 14 Honor in camera. She said after August is the time frame that 15 she gave me. So if it could be September, that would be 16 fantastic. I will get -- since she did have surgery last 17 week, I will get in touch with her in an appropriate amount of 18 time in order that I can inform counsel and the Court, if we 19 do schedule a date today, if that is feasible or if there's 20 any issues.

21 THE COURT: All right. I'm not going to decide the 22 trial date now.

23 The first thing I want to know and I want to know it
24 by Monday is if it's going to be a jury trial or a non-jury
25 trial.

1 MR. NOHAVICKA: Just so you know, Your Honor, the
2 plaintiff does not want a jury on this case.

3 THE COURT: Right. I got that. I am waiting to 4 hear from the defendant on Monday as to whether this is going
5 to be jury or non-jury.

6 And then I will decide whether we hold defendant to
7 its choice of not having sufficiently examined Ms. Rodriguez
8 at deposition or videotaped the deposition or something and 9 then I will decide what to do about the schedule and I will 10 let you know.

11 If we do try it this summer -- is there any other
12 reason that the defendant has why we couldn't try it this 13 summer?

14 MS. O'SULLIVAN: No, just with respect to 15 Ms. Rodriguez.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Let me hear from you on Monday
17 and then I will decide what I want to do.

18 Okay. Anything else we need to cover?

19 MR. NOHAVICKA: Nothing by the plaintiff, Your 20 Honor.

21 MS. O'SULLIVAN: I apologize. I know I said with 22 respect to the summer, there was not an issue. The only issue
23 that I have as far as scheduling, and I do apologize, it's the 24 week before Labor Day which this year happens to fall, like,
25 the last day of August and the week before, the first week of

1 September, excuse me. My daughter's day care is closed that
2 week and I typically take off.

3 THE COURT: Would she like to watch a trial?

4 MS. O'SULLIVAN: She's 15 months. So ...

5 THE COURT: I won't do it then.

6 MS. O'SULLIVAN: It would just be difficult for me
7 to arrange child care. I would ask for that courtesy, please.

8 THE COURT: That's not a problem.

9 All right. You will let me know by Monday and then
10 I will set a final schedule taking into account to the extent
11 I think it's necessary Ms. Rodriguez and your daughter's
12 school vacation.

13 Okay. Thank you all. Nice to see you.

14 MR. NOHAVICKA: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 MS. O'SULLIVAN: Thank you.

16 (Matter concluded.)
